Wets Lose Last Chance In Court

Supreme Court Holds Harding's Clause Does Not Invalidate Amendment.

OTHER ATTACKS FUTILE

Last Chance to Destroy Eighteenth Amendment Killed by Decision.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—The validity of the prohibition amendment was reaffirmed by the Supreme court Monday.

All sections of the amendment have been upheld by the court, thus making it certain that future attacks will be futile.

Specifically the court held that the proposal of President Harding while a senator, requiring that the states must ratify the amendment within seven years to make it operative does not void it.

Attorneys for the liquor interests had contended that this requirement was unconstitutional and therefore invalidated the entire amendment.

The Harding proposal is section three and the court last June specifically upheld the other two sections.

Justice Van Devanter again read the decision, as he did last June.

The court also held that the prohibition amendment became effective on January 17, 1920. Wet attorneys asserted that it was not law until January 29, or one year, after the ratification of 38 states was proclaimed by the secretary of state.

January 17, was one year after the 38 states had ratified, the twelve days representing the time required for official notices of action to reach the state department.

Unexpected Attack
The decision disposed of the unexpected attack made on the law by attorneys for J. J. Dillon, San Francisco drayman, who was arrested on the day the Volstead law became effective.

The decision is a victory for the government's woman assistant attorney general, Mrs. Annetta Abbott Adams. She argued the case for only five minutes before the court, so confident was she of a favorable decision.

She claimed that even if the Harding amendment were invalid it did not void the other sections which are the vital parts.

TROOPS FROM THREE STATES AT DOUGLAS

Wisconsin Camp Will Hold More National Guards Than Any Other in Country.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Madison.—Camp Douglas, near Eau Claire, will have the largest number of troops of any national guard camp in the country this summer, according to a statement issued by Adjutant General Orlando Holway Monday.

Beginning June 20, between 3,000 and 7,000 troops will be stationed at Camp Douglas going through intensive training.

General Helmick, chief of staff of the sixth army corps, will be in command of the camp and is expected to reach Eau Claire Wednesday, to make preliminary arrangements for the reception of troops. A regiment of regular army infantry will be stationed at Camp Douglas throughout the summer.

All the artillery of the Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan national guard will train at Camp Douglas.

General Pershing, chief of staff, will spend several days reviewing troops at the camp, General Holway said.

STATE SENATORS ARE EXPOSED TO SMALLPOX

By United Press Leased Wire.
Madison.—An outbreak of smallpox among the state senators may result from a case developing in the clerical force of the senate.

A. R. Millet, clerk of the senate state affairs committee, worked until Saturday last week before he took to his bed with smallpox. He had been ailing since Thursday and exposed the entire membership of the senate to the disease.

SEN. NEWBERRY MAKES FIRST CALL ON HARDING

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—Senator Newberry of Michigan, recently freed by the supreme court of charges of illegal use of money in his primary campaign, Monday paid his first call on President Harding.

MUST PAY TAXES ON INCREASES IN RESOURCES

Government Wins Suit to Collect on Increased Values of Natural Resources.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—The federal government, by a decision of the supreme court, Monday won one of the most important tax suits in recent years when the court held that the increased value of natural resources held by a corporation is profit and therefore is taxable as income.

Justice Pitney read the decision of the court. The decision means that many millions of dollars will be kept in the treasury, according to government estimates.

The suit was brought by the Laclede Iron Works, a West Virginia corporation, when the commissioner of internal revenue imposed a tax on it of more than $1,000,000 for the increased value of ore lands in the Mesabi range. This was done on the ground that the value of lands which originally cost $150,000, had increased to $10,105,400.

The increased value was represented by a stock dividend issued by the company increasing its capitalization by $9,915,400.

The increase, the company contended, was not a profit, but an increase in invested capital.

Charles E. Hughes, now secretary of state, argued the case for the company.

Inheritance Law Valid
The federal inheritance tax law enacted Sept. 8, 1916, was held valid by the supreme court.

The federal government's method of determining the tax was also sustained.

In computing the tax, the government refused to allow deductions from the amount taxable of the payments that were made by executors of estates to the various states.

PEACE RESTORED IN MINE COUNTRY

Williamson, W. Va.—Peace hopes in Mingo county's mine war were strengthened at sunset Monday when the sniper's positions in the West Virginia hills were quiet.

Authorities, however, feared new attacks on the half dozen little mining towns in the Cuyahoga valley might open at any time.

The industrial war between striking coal miners and company employees was quieter Sunday than any time since the desperate engagement began last Thursday morning.

The casualty list of six dead and an indefinite number wounded, was not changed by early reports here Monday.

Arrival in Pike county, Kentucky, of two companies of Kentucky guardsmen quieted the snipers. Detachments were sent to Albion and McCarr, where heavy fighting was in progress last week. Another company was stationed near Merrimack.

STRIKE PUTS DAMPER ON BRITISH CELEBRATION

By United Press Leased Wire.
London.—Great Britain Monday celebrated a cheerless Whitsuntide.

The coal strike with its curtailment of traffic and unemployment prevented the usual celebrations. Trains were packed to capacity and motor buses and stage coaches were used to carry pleasure seekers to coast resorts.

All business houses and exchanges were closed.

Asks Congress To Probe War Veterans' Societies

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington, D. C.—Congress this week will start an investigation of charges that several recently formed service men's organizations are nothing more than "get rich quick Wallingford" schemes, for their promoters.

Information has been collected by Representatives Royal Johnson, South Dakota, who has organized private detectives, that these organizations not only seek to mislead the former service men, but also have been successful in soliciting subscriptions from public men and politicians interested in the welfare of disabled soldiers.

Johnson expects to introduce a resolution naming the organizations which he claims are of a wild cat or "mushroom" nature. The house rules committee has decided to make a preliminary investigation of the charges later in the week. Upon the introduction of the Johnson resolution, it will be sent to the alleged promoters and they will be asked to testify as to their organizations.

The promoters of these fake service men's organizations have displayed a remarkable cleverness and daring," said Johnson.

They induced such men as Herbert Hoover, Senator Wadsworth and Rabbi Wise to allow their names to be used as members of honorary executive committees and the like.

Johnson charged that one of the organizations is headed by a former ex-convict and that the annual office payroll of another is $60,000. The office force, he added, is very small. Three of the organizations, Johnson has investigated, have headquarters in New York and have collected large sums of money, while another has a Washington branch and has been threatening political action against several congressmen unless they contributed $200, according to the congressman.

Poles Ready TO FIGHT IF GERMANS WIN

Polish Leader Threatens War if Germans Are Permitted in Silesia.

FRENCH MAY QUIT ENTENTE

Briand and Lloyd George at Swords' Points Over Polish Question.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Schopplitz, Upper Silesia.—"Anarchy will reign in Upper Silesia if Germany is permitted to send troops into the country," Adelbert Korfanty, Polish leader, declared Monday in an interview with the United Press.

"The Germans will be slaughtered if they advance," he declared.

"A division of Upper Silesia, giving Poland less than she claims, will result in anarchy."

Korfanty said he planned to retire as soon as the allies reach a decision regarding Upper Silesia.

"But if the decision is not just," he declared, "it does not give Poland the territory marked by the Korfanty line, anarchy will follow."

"We don't intend to fight the allies," he said.

"We will demobilize at Plesk and Rybnik if they want us to."

"But the Germans will be slaughtered if they attempt to counter-attack on us."

No Aid From Allies
Korfanty complained that the allied troops had not aided him. The Italian and British forces could clear the situation immediately if they would side with the Poles, he said.

Korfanty avoided direct criticism of Lloyd George. Asked what he thought of Lloyd George's statement that the Germans had a right to use their forces in preserving order in Silesia, he evaded with "if the Germans come they will be slaughtered."

French May Withdraw
Paris.—Premier Briand will threaten France's withdrawal from the entente if Great Britain persists in her "anti-Polish" attitude. It was predicted in official circles Monday.

Briand refused to meet Premier Lloyd George until he has obtained a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies, permitting him to exert the utmost pressure.

Briand and Lloyd George probably will hold a private interview at Boulogne after the chamber meets Thursday. Lloyd George asked for the conference to settle the differences of the two countries in the Upper Silesian controversy.

It was predicted here that the meeting will be of the stormiest nature. Briand being thoroughly aroused over Lloyd George's statement before the house of commons, a statement made without consulting French interests.

Briand, it was predicted, will demand that France be supported in her plan to keep the rich coal lands of Silesia away from the Germans. He will go further, it was believed, and demand that France have the determining voice in settling all continental matters involved in the Versailles treaty.

ARREST SINN FEINERS AFTER FIRES IN LONDON

By United Press Leased Wire.
London.—Raiding of Sinn Fein meeting places continued here Monday as a result of eleven attempts to burn buildings in London and surrounding towns Sunday.

Suspected Sinn Feiners and documents were taken to police stations for careful examination. The discovery of pencilled notes on addresses of relatives of members of the Royal British constabulary bore out the first belief that the incendiaryism was meant as a reprisal for the constabulary's work in Ireland.

Extra police details were on watch Monday in the districts attacked by the incendiaries who were prepared with petrol and inflammable material. No serious damage was done any of the buildings but five persons were wounded as a result of surprise attacks by the police.

The Philippines know this well enough. They know that for four years they have been in the hands of a native Filipino. Authorized by a Filipino Assembly that was chosen by the free vote of the Filipino people. They have an unquestioning confidence in the sincerity and good faith of the United States. They feel now that they have fulfilled the part of the bargain, fulfilled it to the letter, and they can't understand why the United States does not do its part.

But Americans here who have invested money and established homes have never been able to convince themselves that the United States would withdraw its sovereignty or over intended to withdraw it. DAUGHTER OF FORMER GOV. COX IS DEAD

By United Press Leased Wire.
Dayton, Ohio.—Mrs. Helen Cox Mahoney, 25, wife of Daniel J. Mahoney and daughter of former Governor James M. Cox, died suddenly at the Mahoney residence at Oakwood suburb of Dayton, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Solso of New Haven, Conn., know how the old woman in the shoe felt. Michael is staying home from work to help care for quadruplets the stork brought recently. Their combined weight at birth was 20 pounds.

Weeks Begins Process Of Healing Old Sores

JONES LAW HAS KILLED BUSINESS IN PHILIPPINES

Uncertainty of U. S. Attitude Makes Life in Islands a Nightmare.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
Copyright, 1921.

Manila.—There is one thing about the Philippine question that is an abominable and a sinister thing, and that is the uncertainty of the U. S. attitude.

Congress ought either to repeal the Jones law or enforce it, and be spry about it, too, whichever it chooses to do.

The present situation here is stupid, ridiculous, unfair and disastrous. It is also highly unsafe, if we care anything about that.

The Jones law was approved in August, 1916. If you have happened to read it, you know that in the most solemn fashion it pledges the United States to grant to the people of the Philippine Islands complete independence as soon as they shall have established a stable government. No ifs or buts about it and no other conditions. They are to have independence not when they shall be ready for it nor when they shall be able to put things over as Herbert Hoover, but when they shall have established a stable government.

The present government, established under and in consequence of the Jones law, came into full existence in 1917. It has been running the machine ever since. It was established by the people of the Philippine Islands. It is composed of and managed by them.

Nobody can say it is not stable; nobody tries to say so. It may be stable, it may be as stable as a church, and has been for four years.

The Filipinos know this well enough. They know that for four years they have been in the hands of a native Filipino. Authorized by a Filipino Assembly that was chosen by the free vote of the Filipino people. They have an unquestioning confidence in the sincerity and good faith of the United States. They feel now that they have fulfilled the part of the bargain, fulfilled it to the letter, and they can't understand why the United States does not do its part.

But Americans here who have invested money and established homes have never been able to convince themselves that the United States would withdraw its sovereignty or over intended to withdraw it. ABANDON HOPE FOR SHIPWRECKED CREW

Saint Ste. Marie, Mich.—All hope has been abandoned for the seven members of the crew of the barge Mitzie, which broke loose from the steamer Zillah off White Fish point, in a snowstorm Friday night.

The barge Peestigo which also broke away was picked up Sunday and brought here.

The Mitzie carried a captain, woman cook and five seamen. Those thought lost are Captain K. Pederson, Buffalo, Florence, Peterson, cook; Robert Campbell, Tonawanda, New York; Eric Johnson and Louis Florence, Bay City, Michigan; John Drainer, Tusculum, Pa., and an unidentified seaman who shipped from Port Huron, Mich.

HAYWOOD SAYS HE WILL COME BACK TO U. S.

I. W. W. Leader Sends Message From Moscow Stating He Will Serve Sentence.

Copyright 1921 by the United Press.
London.—William D. Haywood will return to the United States to serve his twenty year sentence in Leavenworth prison, he declared Monday, in an exclusive statement wirelessly to the United Press from Moscow.

The I. W. W. leader whose disappearance brought bitter criticisms from associates who were also under sentence for hampering the nation's war activities, announced he will return after the third international and other conventions have been held in Moscow.

Haywood's bondsmen will not suffer loss, he said.

Bonds are Forfeited
Chicago.—Bonds of "Big Bill" Haywood and the eight other convicted I. W. W. leaders, who failed to surrender at Leavenworth prison, were forfeited Monday by order of the circuit court of appeals.

The I. W. W.'s bonds were from $5,000 to $15,000 each aggregating $350,000.

Otto Christensen asked that the forfeiture of the bond of Haywood, who informed the United Press from Moscow by wireless Monday that he would return to serve his twenty year sentence, be postponed until William B. Lloyd, Haywood's chief bondsman, could be reached.

Lloyd, millionaire communist, is cruising in the Chesapeake bay. The court refused to grant the request.

Most of those who failed to "dress in" at Leavenworth were editors of foreign language newspapers during the war and considered the "intellectuals" of the I. W. W. movement.

Thirty-seven I. W. W.'s are now serving their terms.

SEEK PLOTTERS WHO DITCHED FAST TRAIN

By United Press Leased Wire.
Bloomington, Ill.—Investigation into the identity of the plotters who are supposed to have caused the wreck of the "Hummer," the Chicago and Alton crack flyer, was started Monday.

The "Hummer," going 50 miles an hour, plunged into an open switch at Shirley, Ill., seven miles from here, late Sunday night.

George Scutts, fireman, who was pinned under the wreckage of the cab, is reported fatally injured. Twenty others were hurt.

It was a deliberate attempt to wreck the train," said I. E. Wood, special counsel for the state public utilities commission.

The theory of railroad officials is that the switch was thrown open by some demented person with a grudge against the railroad. The train left Chicago at 6 p. m. Sunday for Kansas City.

ONE KILLED, SEVERAL HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

By United Press Leased Wire.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—E. G. Beckworth, brakeman of Clinton, Iowa, was instantly killed and members of the train slightly injured when a westbound freight train on the Chicago Northwestern crashed into an extra freight train eastbound at Grand Mound, Iowa, last night.

Twenty-five cars of cattle were piled into the ditch. Officials of the company have not determined the cause of the wreck.

MENASHA STONE CRUSHER IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Menasha.—A stone crusher in the J. C. Jorgenson stone quarry near here was destroyed at noon by fire. A belt slipped off a pulley, spilling a can of gasoline against the hot engine and an explosion followed. The crusher was new and had been in operation only about a week. It was estimated the loss would reach $20,000, partially covered by insurance.

Asks Tariff Protection For The American Hen

By United Press Leased Wire.
New York.—The American hen wants protection from foreign competition.

According to H. W. Kerrigan, California chicken farmer, the poultry industry in this country, which does an annual business of $125,000,000, faces complete demoralization through this invasion.

Kerrigan, who is secretary of the chamber of commerce of Petaluma, Calif., the chicken center of the United States, is touring the country, in an effort to crystallize sentiment for a protective tariff on eggs.

He said that hundreds of poultry men have already been forced out of business.

"That the hen is the real American bird is evident from the fact that poultry is raised on 87 per cent of

ESCAPED POSTAL BANDIT ARRESTED BY SHERIFF HERE

Youth Confesses Crime When He Bids Sheriff for Something to Eat.

Frank Pasowicz of Homestead, Florence, charged with burglarizing the postoffice at Pence, Florence, and with escaping from a United States deputy marshal in Green Bay last Thursday was taken into custody Saturday afternoon by Sheriff P. G. Schwartz while roaming about the postoffice grounds.

While on his way from the court-house to the jail the officer was accosted by a seely looking youth, 17 years old, who inquired for the sheriff. He was thinly clad, gaunt and dirty and his clothing looked as if he had been sleeping in hay stacks.

Without making known his identity the sheriff inquired what he wanted. The young man said he was hungry and cold and would like something to eat. The officer questioned him closely and not only learned that he had robbed the postoffice at Pence, securing $47 in cash, but had also escaped from a federal officer to whom he was turned over by a postoffice inspector who made the arrest.

The sheriff did not question the young man's story which was told in a straightforward manner and immediately took him into custody. He also saw to it that he was given a bath and a dinner. Later in the afternoon he confessed to having escaped from the Chicago jail while enjoying the privileges of a "trustee" after he and his partner had robbed a saloon of $3,000 in cash and $15,000 in bonds, for which his partner is still serving sentence.

Sheriff Schwartz got in touch with the postoffice inspector and deputy United States marshal from whom Pasowicz claimed he escaped, who corroborated the young man's story. P. W. Hayes, United States deputy marshal, called at the jail for him Monday morning and took him to Milwaukee.

WOMAN THREATENS ACCUSERS IN U. S.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Honolulu.—Mrs. Lydia Southard, held as an alleged feminine "bluebeard," charged with the murder of four husbands and a brother-in-law, Monday held firmly to her claim that she was a natural typhoid fever carrier and that her husbands died of this disease contracted from her.

"After I am proven innocent, I will sue my accusers on the mainland for damages," she declared in a statement.

"I never had typhoid fever myself but I am convinced that my husbands contracted it from me. Scientists say I can be a carrier without being affected."

"As to my collecting insurance policies when my husbands died, I never collected any although I have some due me."

"There was some talk after my last husband died and that was why I had an inquest held on me."

Mrs. Southard refused to attend religious services in the jail Sunday.

She has signed a statement formally waiving extradition.

NOT ENOUGH CRIME TO SATISFY WOMAN MARSHAL

By United Press Leased Wire.
Jackson, Wyo.—Pearl Williams, Jackson's pretty 22-year-old feminine city marshal, is going to resign, she confided to the United Press Monday, because the town is so quiet that an officer of the peace is unnecessary.

Miss Williams was reelected to her office, as were the other women municipal officers of Jackson, a few days ago.

"I didn't make an arrest the year I acted as marshal," said Miss Williams.

"The town's so quiet I've decided there is no need for a police woman, so I'm going to resign."

When asked how she tamed bad men with smiles, the pretty lady "cop" said she backed up her smiles with the grim look of a Colt's 45.

Miss Williams is going to resume her former occupation as "soda squirt" she said.

THE COST OF EDUCATION

At the average rate paid in the United States as a whole in 1918, we would pay the public school education of each child for the time it enters school until it quits the elementary or high school, an average somewhat less than $360. For public school education and for college, university, professional and technical education, we would pay, at the 1918 rate, for each individual an average of $440. But many children get very little education. The schools they attend are short, teachers are poorly paid, and therefore incompetent. Houses and equipment are inadequate and schools are unsatisfactory in many ways. These children get much less than their share of the average.

Before we can hope to make the schools satisfactory and provide for our children the education demanded for good citizenship, for democracy and for industrial efficiency, the government estimates we shall have to spend an average of not less than $4200 for the elementary and high school education of each child; for higher education, general, technical and professional, and for extensional education for those who cannot go to college or any other school of higher education, enough to make up an average of $300 for each individual, making a total average of $1500 to be paid for the education of each individual unit of our population. At this rate the total annual expenditures for education would be approximately three and one-quarter billion dollars, whereas the total in 1918 was less than one billion dollars.

This amount seems large. Can we afford it? The total wealth of the United States is approximately $300,000,000,000; the total annual income about $70,000,000,000; both are increasing rapidly. Neither one per cent of our total capital wealth or four and one-half per cent of our annual income should be considered too much to pay for the education of our children for citizenship, for making a living, and for the individual happiness that can come only to those whose minds and bodies have been properly instructed and trained. Since the money paid for education is, after all, taken not from what we of this generation would otherwise use, but rather from that which we would leave to our children, is it fair and just to them to take so much of their money for their education? Would it pay them as an investment?

At 21 years old the life expectancy is nearly 44 years; that is, those who are alive at 21 years live to an average of 65 years, and will have an average of 44 years of life, all productive years, if they have been so taught and trained as to enable them to preserve their health and strength. The $1500 paid for the education of the individual spread over 44 years for payment, is less than $35 a year. The investment problem resolves itself, therefore, into this simple question: Will the average man and woman with such education and training as could be given at a cost of $1500, produce $35 a year more than they would without any education, or training of the schools, and living in a society of illiterates without training or skill except such as might be gained by their untrained, undirected efforts? Will such education add $35 a year to the wealth producing and wealth saving power of the average man and woman? If so, preparation for citizenship and all that individual culture means, will be what the speculator calls "velvet," that is, clear profit.

In answering this question, it should be remembered that an average of $1500 per capita for education will give elementary and high school education to all, in schools taught by competent teachers and adequately equipped, and the higher education of the college, university, professional and technical school, to two or three times as many as now get it, and will provide opportunity for extension education for all those who are unable to attend college or any school of higher education. It should also be remembered that, because of the higher grade of universal education, each individual man and woman will live in a better society, and have the help of the many new scientific discoveries and many forms of labor saving machinery and inventions which greatly multiply the productive power of the worker.

WHAT EDISON THINKS OF YOU

Thomas A. Edison, to determine whether college men are what he considers ignoramus, asks them 78 questions. He calls the test his "ignoramus-meter." The 78 questions were put up to Edwin Roche Hardy, Columbia University's 12 year old "prodigy." The lad turned in 53 answers. He said, among the other blunders that Tallahassee is in Tennessee, that Horace Greeley founded the New York Herald, and that mahogany is the hardest wood.

Admitting that many persons would answer that copra is a snake, that John Hancock was the founder of an insurance company, and that one of the ingredients of good white paint is a brush that doesn't shed bristles, there are several of the Edison questions that can't be answered directly. For instance, who invented printing? The correct answer, supposedly, is Gutenberg. A Chinese would differ, claiming that his ancestors printed from movable type several thousand years before Gutenberg was born. "What are felt hats made of?" Answer: Hair or fur fiber. But is this accurate? Many felt hats appear to be made from the sweepings gathered up by a vacuum cleaner. Probably there are many who think that the cotton gin was invented by some bartender.

If Edison wants a real "ignoramus-meter," he should include these questions: How many home runs did Babe Ruth knock out last year? Why does a man take off his hat instead of his collar when riding in an elevator? If a dollar bought only four pounds of sugar in 1920 when you had it, what is a dollar worth now when you haven't got it? How many raisins should be used to the gallon? What was the name of the genius who figured out how far apart to place railroad ties so they can be walked on only with difficulty? Answer those and qualify—for a place in an information bureau.

NON-ALCOHOLIC EXTRACTS

Beer and whisky have neither food nor medicinal value, according to recent declarations of reputable authorities. The alcohol which has long been considered an essential element in flavoring extracts is now being barred from that respectable position. A Chicago firm has been conducting experiments in this field for many years in its own research laboratories. The other day it announced the perfection of its non-alcoholic flavors.

As in other instances of the debasement of King Alcohol, that liquid is not only unnecessary in the manufacture of extracts, but its presence in them is actually detrimental. Says the report of the Chicago firm:

The new products have all the bouquet, aroma and flavor that exist in the alcoholic extracts, and are more economical, as they do not bake or freeze out when being used. Manufacturers and housewives have found that they lose a great deal of their flavoring material as heat drives off the alcohol, which is a volatile solvent and takes with it a certain percentage of the flavoring material. This is not possible in the non-alcoholic products, as it takes a high degree of heat to volatilize them, hence the products are more economical, as less is used. These flavors are very clear, keep well and have all the strength and appearance of alcoholic extracts without the interfering odor and flavor of alcohol.

Perhaps in the natural course of improving flavoring preparations this development would have come in time. It was hastened by the fact that the old alcoholic extracts have been barred from a number of states and that, because they are frequently used for beverages, thorough prohibition enforcement may soon deny makers of alcoholic extracts the right to manufacture or market them.

AUTOBOYGRAPHY—9

Two Sweet

There is no doubt that a great many children suffer from impairments of nutrition because their diet consists too largely of carbohydrates—starchy foods and sweets. This is the tendency toward which all the mollycoddled cakes, white bread, crackers and pastries and cookies lead. Dad and I certainly do not believe that such a diet is advisable for any boy or girl.

An excess of starchy foods and sugars in the diet makes a child or boy fat, perhaps, but flabby and anemic and too watery, that is, his tissues retain too much water. He looks white or pale, tires quickly, and usually suffers more or less discomfort called dyspepsia or indigestion.

Piecing predisposes to that condition, because the child with the piecing habit is exceedingly prone to prefer some article which is chiefly starch or sugar, such as cake or cookies or candy, instead of whole, some bread and butter spread with sugar, (preferably crude brown sugar because it has not been robbed of the mineral salts), a meat sandwich or bread and milk, or crackers and milk.

Piecing, in the sense of a regular lunch in mid-forenoon and mid-afternoon, is not a bad habit at all; for young children it is a good habit, provided always that the lunch is a wholesome one.

Let no fond grandmother attempt to credit father and me with the teaching that sugar or candy is preferable in any way to bread and butter or milk or meat or vegetables or fruit, even though ounce for ounce sugar is the more nutritious. All we maintain is that live, active, growing, normal (children require a liberal allowance of sugar (as children require simple candy) with regular meals or as such or in the form of a dessert, as easily digested as any food a child can take, that it is quickly available for oxidation to produce energy for the muscles, including the heart muscle, of the active child, and that it is a huge mistake, based upon nothing but prejudice, to withhold sugar from a normal boy or child.

And may we say here again that there is no connection between sugars or candy in the diet and infestation with worms.

Dad and I have gone into this sugar question very conscientiously. I can tell you, and so far as normal boys and children are concerned, we are sold on sugar.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cause of Locomotor Ataxia

Please advise me what is the cause of locomotor ataxia. (C. R. H.)

ANSWER—In about ninety per cent of cases the cause is syphilis PLUS some such factor as prolonged worry or fatigue. Possibly locomotor ataxia may be caused in some cases by other infections than syphilis. It must be clearly understood that in about one-tenth of all cases there is no evidence that the patient has ever had syphilis. It should also be remembered that in at least one-tenth of all cases of syphilis the infection has been innocently acquired.

Migraine Tablets

Please tell me what the effect of migraine tablets would be if taken to excess, and how many such tablets may be taken each day without doing harm. (W. B. F.)

ANSWER—All sorts of concoctions in pill, tablet, powder, capsule, cachet and liquid form are exploited for the relief of or as a "cure" for migraine, sick headaches, neuralgia, grippe, that tired feeling, fatigue and even "nervousness." The "kick" in nearly every such concoction is the central derivative—acetanilide, phenacetin, antipyrin, or, in other words, acetaminophen, phenylacetate, etc.—a drug that benumbs sensation to pain, fatigue or other disagreeable conditions, but at the expense of depression of the heart and destruction of red corpuscles in the blood. There can be no good reason for taking such a remedy every day or every week. The effect of frequent resort to such a drug is disastrous—gradual weakening of the heart, increasing anemia, sometimes rather sudden death, sometimes mental deterioration so great as to require confinement of that victim. It is a deplorable mistake to acquire the acetanilide habit or to depend on any such drug for comfort.

Mistaken Notion of the X-ray

I suffer with severe pains in the stomach. It seems that certain foods do not agree with me. I desire to have an X-ray examination made to ascertain exactly what the ailment is and effect a complete cure. Would it be advisable to see a stomach specialist or go to a hospital?

ANSWER—You are likely to be disappointed with the X-ray examination. The X-ray is merely one of the aids a good doctor employs to determine a definite point. It would be unwise to have any kind of X-ray observation made unless by special request of your doctor. Many diseases give no X-ray evidence at all.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

H. D. Ryan was a Milwaukee visitor. Mrs. Paul Sieth was visiting friends at Watertown.

Dr. H. B. Tanner of Kaukauna called on Appleton friends. John Hackworthy came down from Quinnesec to spend a few days with his family.

Dell Bryan, superintendent of the new mill of the Ashland Sulphite Fibre Co., was in Appleton calling on friends.

One of the sluice gates of the upper dam was partially opened the day previous. The wind drove the water down the river so that it went over the dam in a lively manner.

G. F. Peabody, A. T. Smith and F. C. Shattuck left on a trout fishing expedition to the vicinity of Shawano.

W. W. Briggs, A. B. Whitman and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Briggs went to Neenah the day previous to attend the funeral of William Tippler, who was one of the oldest pioneers of Winnabago county.

Herman Klotz of Appleton and Miss Augusta Volkman of Black Creek were married the previous Saturday evening at their new home on Commercial St. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Theodore Barth.

The contract for the mason work for the new annex on College-ave., to be erected by F. W. Kuller and Robert Joyce were let to Peter Rudmacher and the carpenter work to Schneider & VanStratum. Dr. Dafter, Dr. Chilton and Dr. James S. Reeve addressed the Good Citizenship League on the "The Needs of Prescott Hospital."

The Fox Liver Acetylene Co. was organized and the officers elected were: President, Frank Wright; vice president, F. G. Holton; secretary and treasurer, Joseph Rossmessner.

C. E. Pope of Kaukauna left for Deborah, Iowa, to take charge of the mill of the Mineral Point Fibre Co. as superintendent.

Greece Today

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — A country which has been at war continuously for nine years, which has been industrially ruined by war and is heartily sick of war to the last peasant, and yet determined to go on fighting—that is the strange case of Greece today, according to American observers who have recently returned from there.

Haskin

Crops in the rich central valleys of Greece are rotting on the ground for lack of men to gather them. Industry is in chaos. Boys are growing up into manhood without knowing any occupation except war, and each new generation, as it reaches military age, is drafted to fill the ranks. The finances of the country are in a tangle which it will take a century to straighten out. And yet Greece fights on, not in self defense, but in the effort to consolidate an empire.

Greece, the observers say, is the purest survival of the spirit of nationalism, which forced the present European states out of chaos and is slowly giving way to the world spirit, the sense of international solidarity, the feeling that all nations together have a common responsibility for the human race.

Allied diplomacy has played its part in the Greek situation. The allies wanted a consolidated Greece. And doubtless strong groups within Greece have fomented war because they expected commercial advantage both from its continuance and from its ultimate success. But, in addition to these diplomatic and commercial ingredients which go into the making of all wars, Greece is said to be sustained by a genuine popular faith in a great Greek empire. Although there be recurrent outbreaks of popular opposition to the war, the typical Greek, who has been starved and ruined by war, is still willing to go on fighting for his dream of a greater Greece. He has not shared the great disillusionment which was brought to the western world.

The Allied Policy

To understand the part played by the Allies in bringing about the present situation in Greece one must glance back to the 19th century history. Since in 1854 Great Britain and France fought with Turkey against Russia they have remained united on one principle in the Balkan question. Neither power would allow either Russia or Germany to get command of Constantinople and the Dardanelles, because these places exercise strategic command over the routes to Asia Minor, India and the Far East. Russia and Germany now being disposed of, the Allied statesmen feel the need of a stable Balkan country to prevent any new attempts at interference. By the Treaty of Sevres, Greece has annexed almost all of European Turkey and has her eastern frontier on the Black Sea, completely cutting off Constantinople from the North. Although the efforts of the Allies through the efforts of Venizelos, who has been given a large slice of Asia Minor around Smyrna. For the consolidation of gains which doubled her area, financial and moral support were vouchsafed from England and France. Then last December came the political change in Greece. Venizelos, of whom the Allies were sure, was overthrown to permit the return of Constantine, suspected of pro-German leanings throughout the war. The Turkish nationalist movement then showed unexpected recuperative power and in March inflicted a crushing defeat on the Greek armies in Asia Minor. Greece consequently finds herself up against a stiff war to retain her new territory in Asia Minor at the very time when Allied support is withdrawn because of the defeat of Venizelos.

This is where the feeling of nationality comes in. After a century of aspirations for national aggrandizement the Greeks are now determined to fight on for the Greek Empire, which for the first time seems within their grasp. It is this determination to pursue a war for Great Greece in spite of its ruinous effects on Little Greece, in spite of the discontent and suffering at home, that strikes the westerner as incongruous.

Greece has been at war continuously since 1912. Men who were boys of 20 in that war are now nearing 30 without having done a stroke of productive work. In the central region of the mainland, that region famous for its green valleys and fertile olive groves, the most prosperous section of a Greece that is by no means all so fertile, the olive fall unpicked to rot upon the ground. The ceaseless drain of men by war has been responsible. From the little villages go forth reluctantly the peasants, casting a backward melancholy eye upon the deserted farms.

A Financial Mystery

Nor is the financing of the present war any less desperate than its draft of men. No one appears to know just how it is being done, and rumors fly of underground loans from a variety of European powers who might be interested in having the Greeks in the unsettled part of Asia Minor that comes between Berlin and Bagdad. A more likely hypothesis offered in a discussion at the American Consulate was that the money is simply borrowed from the National Treasury without hope of repayment.

The Treasury is already unable to meet pressing domestic obligations. Thirty thousand Georgian peasants that Venizelos had brought over to colonize an undeveloped portion of Northern Greece were absolutely dropped by Constantine, who felt perhaps that he could not pay. They are starving with a death rate of from 50 to 100 a day and naturally the country which they had started to cultivate will remain unproductive and a waste.

And what use is being made of all this as a political weapon by the Venizelists? None at all. They are against Constantine, but not against the war. The return of Constantine was the signal for a new and tremendous effort to crush the Turks. The reason was simple. He desired great victories to consolidate him on the throne. He called out three more classes of reserves and drew on the treasury with the results sketched above. For these burdens the Venizelist might be expected to blame Constantine, might be expected to use every effort to have the fighting stopped. Added to the bitter party hatred, a hatred accentuated by every glance at a Venizelos bullet riddled house and every thought of the patriot in exile, one would expect Constantine's misfortune in Asia Minor to be used as a political weapon.

After the great defeat in March, Venizelos left Paris for Italy. In spite of his denials it is common belief that the great Greek statesman is prepared at any moment to return if Constantine is overthrown. His return would not mean a republican form of government but another monarch subordinate and controlled by the Venizelos policy. Yet Constantine holds on, and Venizelists whom you meet in the uniform of the king whom they despise all tell you the same story. They are heart and soul against the King in Athens, but heart and soul behind his work in Asia Minor. And they explain it by saying "There we fight not for the King, but for Greece, for Greece!"

"For Greece!" It is a cry of rampant nationalism mistaking its own ends. Far better for the soldiers to return and build up the shattered olive business by modern methods and hard work. Far better for the efficient financiers to straighten out their tangled. Far better to save what was left of the Georgian peasants and set them tilling the soil. So would think the westerner, perhaps impatiently. But the westerner underestimates the feeling of nationality that desires Greater Greece, that desires all that Greece once had, that exaggerated racial feeling which has not yet expended itself in the Balkans. Not only has it not expended itself, but it keeps on growing, and any solution will have to take account of that fact.

This is a season of Sport Suits

—come in and let us take 10 candles off your cake.

President Harding has been said to have started the Sport Suit fashion.

Be that as it may—one of these fine mornings you are going to awake from your pillow to see the meekest man of your acquaintance boulevarding to work in a rakish, roughish Sport suit—with carefree front and belted back.

The Sport idea is sweeping the country.

For motoring, golf—yes, even Pinochle.

For morning wear, evening wear—everywhere men of middle age are catching up with themselves—and that's what we want you to do.

SCHMIDT SPORT SUITS

A storeful to select from and a wonderful value if there ever was one.

YOUR TEETH

Loss of The Temporary Teeth

By Ben Proctor McGee, M. D., D. D. S.

All temporary teeth that are accessed must be removed. There must be no delay. Harmless abscesses do not exist. If your child is carrying poison in its mouth and you know it, are you willing to assume the responsibility when the little one suffers from systemic infection, or do you expect to place the blame upon an all-wise "Providence." Every child's mouth should be examined at frequent intervals to find out whether or not there is decay or infection or both.

In many cities and towns, both in this country and in Europe, there are public school clinics where the children's mouths are examined and where reparative work is done. In many states the public health boards send out dental clinic committees to examine the mouths of children in the country and small town districts so that the parent may be informed on the conditions that are present in the mouths of their children. The interest in these clinics is very great. In January, 1920, an examination clinic was being held by the Minnesota Public Health Commission in a far northern district, where the temperature was below zero and the snow was two feet deep. One country school twenty miles away bunched up three bobbed loads of little tots and sent them to be examined. The people of that kind of a district appreciate their children and are going to raise them up to be strong, healthy citizens. These clinics are for the purpose of informing the parents what should be done and the parents can then take the child to the dentist of their choice and have the child's mouth put in order. When you get a school report on your child's mouth, appreciate it by following instructions.

ALLEGRE HAYWOOD IS SHORT $35,000

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—A shortage of $35,000 in the accounts of William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, I. W. W. leader, now in Russia, exists in the general defense funds of the organization, according to delegates attending the I. W. W. convention here.

"Big Bill" was custodian of the fund.

The accusation on the floor of the convention caused a near split in the ranks of the organization.

WOULD KEEP FUEL OUT OF BRITAIN

By United Press Leased Wire
London—British labor leaders Saturday called upon the workers of continental Europe to declare a fuel blockade against Great Britain.

Representatives of the railway and transport unions, in a joint conference decided to call the attention of their associates on the continent to the decision of the Geneva labor conference, under which all European workers would be required to cooperate with the striking British miners in tightening the embargo against importation of coal.

Do not delay buying your winter fuel with the expectation of lower prices.

Anthracite coal is bound to advance in price during the fall and winter months. We do not look for lower freight rates on this commodity.

We have shipments of the famous Highland and Jeddo Coal direct from the mines.

CAMP FIRE GROUP WINS TRACK MEET

Womans Club Girls Hold Interesting Athletic Contests Saturday.

Highest honors in the field meet of the Camp-Fires and Girl Scouts conducted Saturday afternoon in Appleton high school by the recreation department of Appleton Womans club, were won by the Witawentins, a Camp-Fire group, under the direction of Miss Laura Rogers. The girls piled up 135 points, 25 of which were awarded for the splendid appearance and conduct of the group. The group showed the keenest attention and interest in the business at hand.

The prize was a beautiful golden brown and dark brown pennant trimmed with gold braid which was donated by W. O. Thiede. The pennant will be retained until the next annual field meet when it will again be presented to the winner.

Second place was given to Scout Troop No. 1 under the leadership of Miss Eleanor Halls with 130 points. Scout Troop No. 11 under the direction of Miss Minette Ellis took third honors with 100 points. Miss Irene Heiss's group with only four members present took 30 points and deserves honorable mention.

The girls met at 1:30 in the club rooms where Miss Adelaide McKee explained the rules of the meet to them. They formed into line and marched to the gymnasium where the events were held. Individual awards were felt pennants which were given for first and second place. Each group was privileged to enter a small and a tall girl for most of the events. For the punning broad jump, the 50 yard dash and the hop-step jump, 25 points were given for first place, 15 for second and 10 for third. For the basketball throw for distance and target throw with basketball 15 points were won by first, 10 by second and 5 by third. Twenty-five points were awarded in the group events.

The results were as follows:
Individual Events

GETS CONTRACT FOR 5 MILES OF PAVING

R. C. Koepke of the Appleton Construction Co. has returned from Lomira, Dodge-co., where his company has been awarded the contract for five miles of concrete pavement on trunk line No. 15 which passes through Appleton. The grading was not included in the bid and was awarded to other contractors. Mr. Koepke will complete his Hilbert-Chilton contract by July 1 at which time he expects the Dodge county highway will be ready for the pouring of concrete. The pavement awarded to the Appleton Construction Co. joins the stretch in Washington-co. awarded to the Gross Construction Co. of Appleton. Joseph McCarthy of Kaukauna has also been awarded a contract calling for three miles of pavement on the same trunk line in Dodge-co.

Sorority Prize Winner
Kappa Delta sorority won a mahogany settee offered to the sorority selling the largest number of tickets for the college play, "Come Out of the Kitchen." Kappa Delta and Alpha Delta Pi sororities ran very close. The contest was started early in the week and closed at 8:30 Saturday evening.
Rehearsals for the play have been held daily and promise of the best student production ever presented at Lawrence. The cast is very well prepared to give a splendid presentation. Special scenery has been secured.

HOLD HEARINGS ON MINIMUM WAGE SCALE FOR WOMEN

Series of Conferences to Fix
New Schedule to Be Held Next Month.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison—The Industrial commission today announced hearings to be held throughout the state in the first week in June on the petition of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor the Wisconsin Council of Social Agencies, and the Wisconsin Consumers' league, for an increase in the minimum wage rates and a decrease in the hours of labor of women and minors, which has been pending before the commission since last fall.
On June 1 hearings will be held at Superior, Green Bay, LaCrosse, and Sheboygan; on June 2 at Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Antigo, Kenosha and Fond du Lac; and on June 3 at Janesville, Wausau, Milwaukee and Madison. No conclusions have been reached as yet by the commission or the advisory wage board upon this petition. Reports which have appeared in the newspapers that a rate of 25c an hour has been agreed upon are without foundation. Not even tentative conclusions have as yet been reached.

In the notices which are being sent out by the commission upon the hearings to be held in the first week in June the statement is made that information is desired upon the cost of living of self supporting women in Wisconsin as shown by recent surveys, and also upon whether there is a difference in the minimum cost of living in large and small towns and, if so, what is a fair differential. Information is also sought upon whether a reduction in the hours of labor of women is necessary for their health and safety, and particularly whether there are industries and occupations in which the work is such that an unusual strain is produced rendering shorter hours more necessary than in most lines of work. The commission also desires information upon any respect in which the minimum wage law as at present administered does not work out satisfactorily.

The present minimum wage rate is 22c an hour, having been established at that figure in 1919. This rate allows $4.50 per week for food, $2 per week for room rent, $2.50 per week for clothing, and $2 for incidentals. The petitioners who seek an increase in the rate claim that these allowances are too small, and that despite decreases the minimum cost of living of self-supporting women is still higher than it was two years ago and that rents in particular have increased. On the other hand, it is contended that the present time is unpropitious for an increase in the minimum wage rates, and that living costs are coming down rapidly.

CROPS HELD BACK BY COLD WEATHER

Special to Post-Crescent
Madison—Warm weather and an occasional warm rain are the crying needs of the Wisconsin farmer, according to a statement issued by the Crop Reporting Service of the Division of Markets today.

Farm work has gone on with little interruption. Farmers in the northern part of the state are ahead of the average a trifle but the farms of southern Wisconsin are slightly behind the average for this season of the year.

Winter grains are making satisfactory growth but need a warm rain and higher temperatures. Seeding of spring grains has been practically completed.

Tobacco in seed beds has been retarded by the cool weather. Early canning peas are well up and the stand is good except in low places.

DECIDE ON JUNE 20 AS DATE TO QUIT

Lawmakers Show an Increasing Desire to Wind Up Their Work in a Hurry.

Madison.—The end of the 1921 legislature is in sight.

A sudden desire on the part of the solons to get back home struck a respectable majority in both houses last week and adjournment since die on June 20th has been decided tentatively.

By rushing through important measures yet to be considered the legislators believe they can wind up at fairs on June 10. Adjournment until June 20th is planned to give the governor time to approve or disapprove the bills passed at the final minutes of the session.

The prohibition question is now out of the way. The educational reorganization program, outlined at the beginning of the session, is to be side-tracked and the 1923 legislature given the privilege of grappling with the problem.

Taxation legislation will depend upon the appropriation bills. Members of the joint finance committee, in charge of all appropriations, believe they can keep the allotments within the estimated income of the state. If they are right, taxation bills will die in committee.

The marketing bill is now before the senate. The bill came from the house in about the same condition it was introduced to the assembly by the Division of Markets. It is a dramatic measure, in the opinion of many legislators, and the senate is expected to take some of the teeth out of it.

Appropriation bills are expected to follow shortly, beginning with a bill for Board of Control carrying with it approximately $7,000,000.

S. S. Class Social

The sale and ice cream social to be given by the Rusy Bee class of Reformed church will be held Friday afternoon and evening in the church basement. The sale begins at 2:30 in the afternoon and will continue through the evening.

iting Appleton relatives.

BLACK CREEK REENGAGES TEACHERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Special to Post-Crescent
Black Creek.—The last Parent-Teachers meeting of the season was well attended at the school house Thursday evening. A fine program under the direction of Mrs. J. J.
Laird was rendered. One feature of the program was a talk by G. J.
Ruehl, a member of the school board, who said the board had been successful in securing the services of the same teachers for next year. After the program a dainty lunch was served.

HEALTH THAT REDUCES GOITRE

[Monday Health Talk No.]
19 by James A. Rolfe,
19 by James A. Rolfe,

Goitre is a swelling of the thyroid gland. It is usually accompanied by stomach weakness.
There are several varieties of goitre. The watery type is easily and quickly subdued, but the other varieties are more stubborn in yielding to chiropractic spinal adjustments.

UNCLE BEN SAYS:
"Better music
than the ring of money is the ring of health in your voice."

The cause is removed by adjustments of spinal bones affecting the nerve impulses to the thyroid gland and the stomach. When such adjustments are followed throughout the point where the spinal nerves are freed of the pressure caused by the disturbed alignment of the spinal joints, the normal flow of nerve impulses restores a normal condition.

Throw Your Old Dictionary Away

It Is Out of Date

As dead as an old newspaper—its information won't fit your work of today—out of date is out of use. Thousands of new words—never put into any previous dictionary—make The New Universities Dictionary exclusively up to date. Now being distributed to readers of

Appleton Post-Crescent

NEED OF A NEW DICTIONARY was forced upon the nation by unprecedented advances in science, the arts, and by upheavals of war and politics.

Thousands of New Words Absolutely necessary in writing and speaking of present-day activities. Thousands of these words, never before in any dictionary, are now fully defined and placed in the homes of readers by the enterprise and foresight of this paper.

The New Universities Dictionary
Thorough, complete, new and authoritative, was perfected in the manuscript by the contributions of PERCY W. LONG, A.M., Ph.D. - Harvard

CLARK S. NORTHRUP, Ph.D. - Cornell
JOHN C. ROLFE, Ph.D. - Pennsylvania
FORREST S. LUNT, A.M. - Columbia
MORRIS W. CROSS, Ph.D. - Princeton
GEORGE J. HAGAR - Editor-in-Chief

Each of these distinguished educators teaches in The New Universities Dictionary how fashions in words changed and outgrew the old dictionaries. They tell in this book how to build and punctuate sentences—how to acquire refinement, culture and force in speech and writing.

The New Universities Dictionary is more than a vocabulary—it is twenty-two dictionaries and an exhaustive inventory of today's English.

Profusely illustrated to teach by picture as well as text—first and only dictionary presenting the new and wonderful process of duotone illustration.

Richly bound in black seal grain, red edges. Printed from all NEW type, large and clear—EASY on the EYES.

OLIVE BRANCH ENDS RACE FOR MEMBERS

Twenty-four Are Added to Roll.
Delegates Are Named and Outing Planned.

Twenty-four members were added to the roll of Olive Branch society of Mount Olive English Lutheran church as the result of a red and blue contest conducted during the winter. The final reports were heard at the meeting Friday evening in Bushey Business college. With the reds leading in the number of points gained the blues are required to tender the winners a banquet in the basement of the new church building as soon as completed.

Seven delegates were elected to attend the southwestern district convention of the Walther league in Plymouth Sunday, May 22. They are Miss Marie Givner, Miss Emilie Runtzheimer, Miss Elsie Reinke, Lloyd Doerfler, William Kramer, Reno Doerfler and Earl Kraemer.

A committee appointed to arrange for a summer excursion was instructed to engage the steamer Paul L. for July 4 for a lake trip to Menominee park, Oshkosh.

Isadoreth Norton, chairman of the educational committee, conducted the Walther league lesson period on "Hospice Work," dealing with care of Lutheran members coming to or leaving Appleton, ways of building the societies and other topics. The play, "An Economical Boomerang," presented several weeks ago was repeated. A social hour followed and lunch was served.

RUSHING WORK ON STORE BUILDING

The old Kress hotel on College-ave, which is to be replaced by a new 5-story building, is being demolished by David Bretschneider, has been removed by the contractors and all that remains to show where it stood is a hole in the ground that extended under about one-fourth of it. The lumber that can be used has been piled up in the alley and the rest has been hauled away, together with all the debris. The work of excavating for the new structure started Monday. Contractors engaged in remodeling the former bank building at the corner of College-ave and Morrison-st., have finished removing the vault that ran from the basement floor to the top of the second story, and are now engaged in lowering the floor to the level of the sidewalk. The work is progressing rapidly and the indications that J. E. Vogt, the new owner, will be able to occupy his new quarters much sooner than he anticipated.

How Michigan Does It

How Hartle Creek, Mich., cooperates with the farmers is described in a booklet, "Busting the City Limits," just received by the chamber of commerce. The publication was mentioned by Frank B. White, Chicago, who spoke before the chamber recently and the ideas contained in its pages recommended for use in Appleton. Secretary Corbett sent for a copy and is devoting some study to methods used there.

Elks Organized Here A Quarter Century Ago

Today is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the institution of the Elk lodge in Appleton, now numbering over 600 members. The Elks started with a charter membership of 28, one-half of whom were unable to attend the initial ceremony. Mayor J. A. Hawes was selected as the first exalted ruler. In mentioning the event at the time, The Post said:

"At Odd Fellows hall Saturday evening, May 16, was instituted the new Appleton Post, No. 337, of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, or ganized some weeks ago. The instituting officer was Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler William DeSteele of Fond du Lac, and the ceremonies were conducted with the assistance of visiting Elks from Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Green Bay and Sheboygan. Twelve charter members were instituted into the mysteries of the order, and is many more who were on the list of charter members, but unable to be present Saturday night will be initiated at once.

The officers of the new lodge are: Exalted ruler, J. A. Hawes; exalted leading knight, T. B. Reid; esteemed loyal knight, Peter R. Thom, esteemed lecturing knight, M. K. Gochnauer; secretary, R. M. Mitchell; treasurer, Herman Erb, Jr.; Tyler, W. B. Murphy; trustees, John Conway, Joseph Spitz and J. C. Kerwin.

"After the completion of the work, the members and visitors adjourned to the Shuman house, where an elaborate banquet was partaken of and toasts, responses and a social session were features of a very pleasant occasion."

BOY SCOUTS

Practice Wall Sealing

Practice for wall sealing will commence at Jones park Tuesday night. Troops that have teams are requested to meet immediately after school. This is in preparation for the big field day May 28. Other events will be pyramid building, fire building, water boiling, fire by friction, signaling, drill, tower building and games. This will be preceded by a review and flag ceremony the review to be conducted by the officers of the local council.

Visits Headquarters

The Rev. William H. Ziegler scoutmaster of New London, was a visitor at headquarters on Friday, demonstrating that Appleton council headquarters is coming to be recognized as a center of scouting for the county.

Eager for Camps

Twenty-eight scouts of troop 6 have signified their intention of going to camp. This is out of a membership of 31. What other troop in the city can equal this record?

Reorganize Troop

Reorganization of troop 8 was ef-fectuated at an election held last Tuesday evening. The new troop heads are Harry Leith, senior patrol leader; John Harriman, vice patrol leader; Reid Winsey, junior patrol leader;

LaVahn Macsch, leader Flying Eagle patrol; Kenneth Henderson, assistant patrol leader.

New York—Germany's first big commercial envoy is in the United States. He is Edmund Rumpler, electrical and mechanical wizard, pioneer automobile and airplane builder.

He won't talk politics. He doesn't want to "interest American capital." And he isn't talking about "establishing big credits."

"I have come to America as a pioneer in the restoration of business relations between America and Germany," he said at the Waldorf. "I'm here as a private individual—a manufacturer—trying to set the wheels running again."

STAR HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS COMPETE HERE ON TUESDAY

State Oratorical and Extemporaneous Speaking Contests at Lawrence College.

Lawrence college will be host to high school orators and extemporaneous speakers from all over the state Tuesday when the annual high school oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contest is to be held. The entire contest is to be held in the Lawrence college building. The entire contest is to be held in the Lawrence college building. The entire contest is to be held in the Lawrence college building.

The winners of the highest honors also will receive gold medals, and the winners of second honors will receive silver medals. The high school winning the greatest number of points will receive a bronze shield.

Preliminaries will be staged at 1:30 in the old chapel when all but six of the orators and five of the extemporaneous speakers will be eliminated. The final contest will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening in Peabody hall. This contest is open to towns people as well as college students.

The high school contestants will be entertained during their stay at Lawrence at the fraternity houses and at Peabody hall. As a special feature they will be guests of the college at the voice play "Come out of the Kitchen." Monday evening. A reception will be given in their honor Tuesday evening in the studio of C. J. Waterman, dean of the conservatory following the contest.

MAY PETERSON TO SING IN EUROPE

Wisconsin Prima Donna Is Chosen by Harvard Glee Club for Coming Tour.

Miss May Peterson, grand opera and concert star of the Metropolitan Opera company, who sang her way into the hearts of Appleton here during the Community Artist and Lecture series last winter, has been honored with selection as soloist for the Harvard Glee club for its coming tour in England, France and Italy.

Miss Peterson was chosen from a long list of American singers, thus attaining the honor of being the greatest and most popular of all American concert singers. The first concert will be given in Paris June 24, where Miss Peterson was formerly prima donna of the Opera Comique. This will be her first appearance in the Parisian capital since the outbreak of the war. Other cities to be included in the tour will be Louvain, Brussels, Antwerp, Ostend, Strassbourg, Geneva, Venice, Nice, Marseilles, London and other musical centers where Miss Peterson formerly appeared before returning home to become a member of the Metropolitan Opera company. The party will sail June 11 aboard of La France.

This will be the first time any American choral club has ever made a European tour. The singers go at the invitation of the French and Italian governments.

Miss Peterson is well known here because she was a native of Oshkosh, the daughter of a Methodist minister. She began her musical career singing in her father's church choir. She studied in Chicago and later went to Paris and Italy to complete her musical education.

PROVIDE SCHOOL TIME FOR RELIGIOUS STUDY

Professor E. E. Enme of Lawrence college outlined religious education in the schools at a meeting of the Principals association Monday afternoon in the F. M. C. A. A movement is underway to devote a definite period each school week to religious and moral education. The plan probably will be put into effect at the beginning of the next school term.

The religious teaching will not be compulsory. Only those pupils who wish will be excused from school to attend some church or religious meeting.

POLICE HUNTING INSANE CRIMINAL

Edward Lewis, Sent to Prison From Here, Escaped From Asylum.

Police officers and sheriffs are searching for Edward Lewis, alias William Mack, five times a penitentiary inmate, who escaped from the Northern hospital for the insane at Winnebago Saturday. Dr. Adin Sherman, superintendent, is making every effort to recapture the man. Lewis is well known to the Appleton police because he was arrested here several years ago under the name of William Mack following the theft of copper cable valued at $600 from the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company. With the aid of his accomplices, he hauled the cable to a place in the flats where it was cut up into small pieces and sold in Neenah. Lewis drew a sentence of five years in Waupun and evidently had become insane, causing his transfer to the asylum.

This was the fifth prison term Lewis was serving. He was sentenced under various names to the Green Bay reformatory, to prisons at Stillwater, Minn., and Bismarck, N. D., and Waupun. Most of the charges against him were larceny. It is believed that Lewis is hiding in this locality.

Miss Elsie Rehfeldt is visiting friends at Weyauwega.

FOR SKIN TORTURES

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Just What You Need. Is Not Greasy

Don't worry about eczema or other skin troubles. You can have a clear, healthy skin by using Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or extra large bottle at $1.00. Zemo generally removes pimples, blackheads, blotches, eczema and ringworm and makes the skin clear and healthy. Zemo is a clean, penetrating, antiseptic liquid, neither sticky nor greasy and stains nothing. It is easily applied and costs a mere trifle for each application. It is always dependable. The E. W. LAST PITCHES NO-HIT GAME FOR INTERLAKES

Pitcher Last for the Interlake team hurled a no-hit game against the Valley Iron Works squad Saturday afternoon and his team won its first game in the industrial league by a score of 8 to 2.

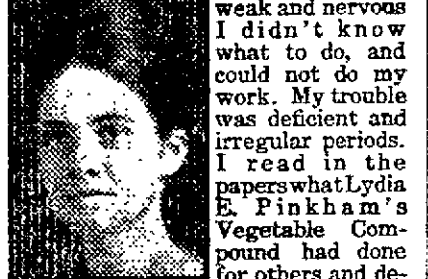

Three other games were played and incidentally all three losing teams had three scores each. Combined Locks defeated the Appleton Coated Paper 5 to 2. Northern Boiler Works defeated Fox River Paper Co. 17 to 3 and Kimberly-Clark defeated Appleton Woolen Mills, 16 to 3.

Edward Smith, Louis Nowak Charles and Martin Smith motored to Manitowoc and Two Rivers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Charbeau of Philadelphia are spending the week with Mrs. Augusta Schirr, 1117 Oneida-st.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

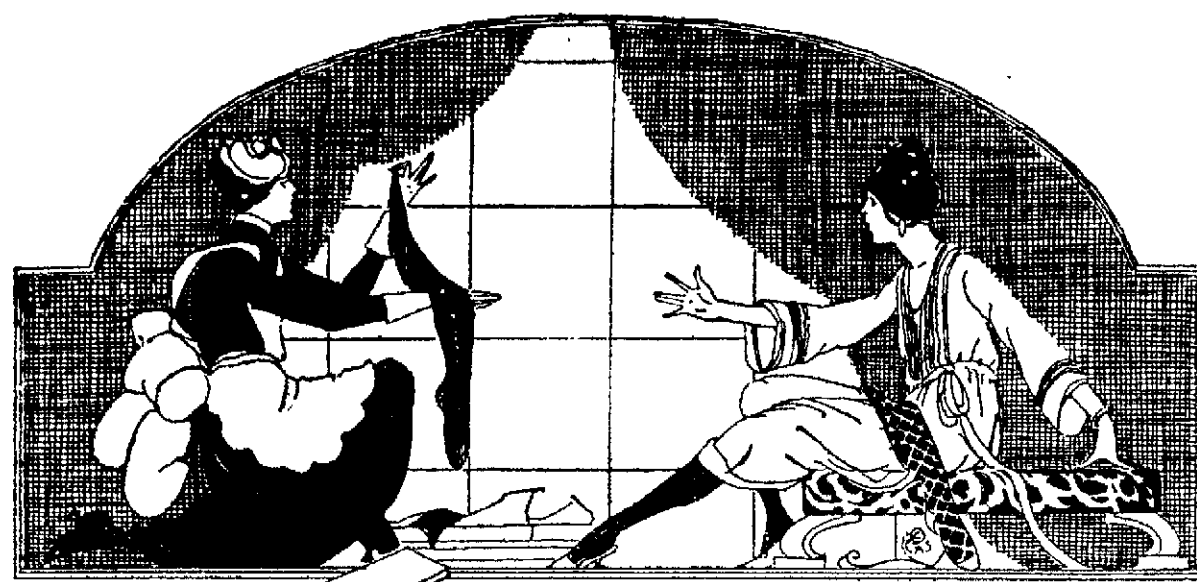

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C.F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter proves that no other remedy is so successful as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

6,000 Pairs of Fine Hosiery For Women and Children Offer Wonderful Assortments In This Sale

In the face of a shortage of the better sorts of hosiery we placed on sale SIX THOUSAND PAIRS this morning. Just piles on piles of the very hosiery you need for summer at old-time "Pettibone Sale" prices.

This immense quantity makes it reasonably sure that every number will be obtainable all week. There is not an item shown but that is a bargain at the Lowest new prices.

For your comparison—recent prices have been quoted on some of these items but you will have to see the actual hosiery to fully appreciate the real quality.

Make Tuesday your Hosiery Day.

39c, a pair, children's three-quarter length mercerized lisle socks with roll top, colors romper-blue, rose, maize, white and Cordovan.

59c a pair, boys' fancy ribbed, roll top, three-quarter length socks in black, brown and grey. A fashionable and splendid wearing sock selling a year ago for $2.00 per pair—sizes 7½ to 10½.

59c a pair, women's sheer mercerized lisle stockings in black, Havana-brown and white. Regular and outsize included, ribbed top or plain. Having been bought on the recent slump, these values are exceptional.

59c a pair, women's fine lisle hose with the popular lavender tops, $1.00 values.

65c a pair, women's black or white FULL FASHIONED fine lisle hosiery. This number has the genuine seam in the back, shaped to fit the leg smoothly. This number is regularly 85c.

$3.98 a pair, the genuine Onyx silk hosiery in the popular polo grey, suede grey and silver grey. They are in the fancy lace styles, the lace running clear to the hem. They are all-silk, of course, and guaranteed perfect. Made to sell for $5.00 and $7.00 a pair.

$1.39
a pair

1,000 Pairs of the Genuine Full Fashioned Silk Hosiery for women in black, cordovan, white and the popular greys. This smooth fitting stocking is made of wonderful 12 strand silk. The slight mill imperfections which permit these stockings to sell at $1.39 a pair instead of the $2.50 are hardly noticeable. A half dozen pairs of this splendid stocking would be the safest "buy" you can make, as this popular stocking is sold up at the mill for months ahead.

$2.48 a pair, women's black all-silk hosiery with white embroidery. Also white all-silk hosiery with black clocks or polka dots. This lot includes beautiful novelty hosiery recently selling up to $5.00 a pair.

$1.48 a pair, women's all-silk stockings of good heavy weight in black, Cordovan or white. This number is every thread silk including the foot and the top.

95c a pair, women's pure thread silk stockings with fashioned leg (mock seam.) These stockings have lisle top and come in black, Cordovan, white and different shades of the popular greys. Even at the lower prices recently prevailing, these would be a special value at $1.50.

95c a pair, women's silk hose in Cordovan-brown with white clocks. This style is most popular just now and hard to get. The leg is fashioned with a mock seam; the foot is seamless.

$1.59 a pair, women's black lace hosiery of pure silk with lisle top. Also a white silk stocking with black clocking. This fancy hosiery recently brought $2.50 a pair.

29c a pair, women's sheer mercerized black lisle stockings, both outsize and regular, slight mill imperfections of the 50c quality—black only.

48c a pair, infants' stockings in white only, sizes 4½ to 6½, regular 65c a pair.

59c a pair, women's two-tone hosiery, a sports hose of fibre silk, recently $1.50 a pair. A Philadelphia manufacturer co-operated with us on this number, giving our New York buyer a close-out price when their factory made its seasonal shut-down.

Imported from the Philippines—Gowns—from the Shop of Mrs. A. Jose

Dear Mrs. Jose:—

We have received your shipment of wonderfully embroidered gowns in perfect condition after their long voyage.

The whole lot was immediately placed on display in the Basement section and in one of our front show windows. You would be surprised at the delighted comments of our women shoppers.

Of course they expect fine materials in Philippine gowns but the beauty of your embroidery is really unusual for such a low price.

You must personally thank your girls for us—especially Juanita, Francesa and Casilda, who worked so hard on these particular things.

Thanking you for your personal attention to this shipment, we are Very truly yours,

THE PETTIBONE-PEABODY COMPANY.

CAPITALIZATION

(Upon completion of this financing)

First (closed) Mortgage 7½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds (this issue)	$3,000,000
Capital Stock	1,000,000
Surplus	4,860,263

From his letter describing this issue, copy of which may be had on request, Mr. George W. Mead, President, summarizes as follows:

BUSINESS: Consolidated Water Power & Paper Co., incorporated in 1894 as the Consolidated Water Power Co.; one of the largest producers in the country of newsprint paper, wall paper, and high grade sulphite fibre; also an important manufacturer of wrapping paper, paper towels, napkins, tissues, etc. Total daily capacity 375 tons of finished products and 335 tons of ground wood pulp and sulphite fibre for its own use. Its plants, at Wisconsin Rapids, Biron, Stevens Point and Appleton, Wis., situated advantageously as to both supplies of raw material and market for finished products, are modern, complete and well balanced.

Important natural water powers and hydro-electric plants owned at Wisconsin Rapids, Biron, and Stevens Point (the last named through a subsidiary, Oneida Power Company), furnish abundant power at low cost. The Company supplies the City of Wisconsin Rapids with light and power and sells power to the local public utility at Stevens Point.

SECURITY: These Bonds will be secured in the opinion of counsel by a closed first mortgage on substantially all real estate, plants, equipment, water powers and rights now owned or hereafter acquired; also by pledge of entire closed first mortgage bond issue and all capital stock of Oneida Power Company.

ASSETS: Net assets after deducting all indebtedness other than these Bonds, based on consolidated balance sheet, are $9,460,263, equal to $3,153 for each $1,000 Bond.

EARNINGS: Net profits during last five years, before Federal Taxes, have averaged $1,758,936 per year, or 7.8 times the $225,000 annual interest requirements of these Bonds; after Federal Taxes, $1,087,943, or 4.8 times these interest requirements.

SINKING FUND: Sinking Fund, beginning November, 1922 sufficient to retire over 80% of this issue before maturity.

MANAGEMENT: The management is in the hands of the men who have successfully built up the business.

We Recommend These Bonds for Investment
Price 97½ and interest, to Yield about 7.85%

It is expected that temporary negotiable receipts will be delivered, exchangeable for definitive bonds, when, as and if issued and received by us, on or about May 23, 1921.
